Re: 1001 Patton Avenue, Asheville, North Carolina

REJECTION OF LEASE EXTENSION; NOTICE OF LEASE EXPIRATION; DEMAND FOR POSSESSION

Dear Ms. Catanese:

We are writing, as and on behalf of The Allison Bruce Irrevocable Trust, The Cara Bruce Irrevocable Trust and The Steven Bruce Revocable Trust (collectively, the "Fee Owners"), as the owners of fee simple title to the above-described property, in response to your correspondence of July 20, 2018 (the "Notice"), to Nineteenth Asheville Properties ("NAP") and the Estate of Walter R. Samuels and Marilyn Joy Samuels (collectively, the "Samuels", with the Samuels and NAP being herein collectively "19th & Samuels"). In the Notice, Kmart Corporation ("Kmart"), writing on letterhead of Sears Holdings ("Sears"), purports to extend through November 30, 2022, the Lease (as amended as hereafter described, the "Kmart Lease") between Patton Avenue Development Corporation ("PADC"), as "Landlord", and S. S. Kresge Company ("Kresge"), as "Tenant", dated December 18, 1964 (as amended by Amendment to Lease between such parties dated August 27, 1965, Second Amendment to Lease between NAP and Kmart dated March 3, 1992 [the "Second Amendment to Kmart Lease"], and Third Amendment to Lease between NAP and Kmart dated May 23, 2017 [the "Third Amendment to Kmart Lease"]) for premises at 1001 Patton Avenue, Asheville, Buncombe County, North Carolina. Response to the Notice has previously been given (i) by Glenn S. Howarth, General Counsel to J&W Management Corp., dated July 24, 2018, and sent on behalf of 19th & Samuels, and (ii) e-mail correspondence of Steven Bruce on behalf of The Steven Bruce Revocable Trust also dated July 24, 2018 (copies of both of which, being herein the "Prior Responses", are attached).

This correspondence is written in amplification of the Prior Responses, as the Notice from Kmart did not and does not, for the reasons more fully articulated below, bind Fee Owners, as a result of which the term of the Kmart Lease has not been thereby extended, and cannot be extended, beyond its current expiration date of January 31, 2019, without the express written agreement of Fee Owners, which agreement has not been obtained.

When the Kmart Lease was entered into in 1964, PADC was the owner of the "Commercial Development" (as described and defined in the Kmart Lease) that was subject to the Kmart Lease, including the portion thereof leased to Kmart (the "Premises"). After the date of the Kmart Lease, ownership of the Commercial Development was transferred by a series of conveyances on February 1, 1966, from PADC to Martin Bruce and wife, Sylvia Bruce (collectively, the "Bruces"). Fee Owners in turn have succeeded to the interests of the Bruces in ownership of fee title to the Commercial Development.

Immediately following conveyance of fee ownership of the Commercial Development to the Bruces, the Commercial Development was in turn ground leased by the Bruces to Patton Plaza Associates ("PPA") by Agreement (as amended as hereafter described, the "Ground Lease") dated February 1, 1966 (as amended by Agreement between such parties dated November 5, 1969, Agreement dated July 11, 1972, between the Bruces and Nineteenth Asheville Corp. ("NAC", errantly described in such instrument as Nineteenth Ashville Corp.), and Agreement dated July 27, 1973, between the Bruces and NAC). The Ground Lease was, by its terms, entered into and made subject to the Kmart Lease.

Following the entering into of the Ground Lease, PPA transferred and assigned the interest of the tenant under the Ground Lease to NAC by Assignment dated November 6, 1969. NAC in turn assigned the interest of the tenant under the Ground Lease to Asheville K-M Associates ("Asheville K-M"¹) by Assignment dated December 17, 1975, following which Asheville K-M effectively sublet the Commercial Development back to NAC by virtue of Lease between such parties dated December 23, 1975 (the "Sandwich Lease"). The Sandwich Lease by its terms was made expressly subject to subleases then in existence.

Record notice of the Ground Lease was filed in the Office of the Register of Deeds of Buncombe County, North Carolina (the "Registry"), in Book 934, Page 649 (filed February 1, 1966), and Book 2601, Page 846 (filed October 5, 2001). Likewise, evidence of assignment of the Tenant's interest under the Ground Lease has been recorded at Book 1009, Page 487 (filed November 7, 1969), Book 1133, Page 376 (filed December 23, 1975) and Book 2220, Page 433 (filed January 10, 2000), all in the Registry. In addition, record notice of the Sandwich Lease was filed in the Registry in Book 1134, Page 438 (filed January 13, 1976) and Book 1135, Page 162 (filed January 23, 1976).

The Kmart Lease, when originally entered into, was for a term of approximately twenty (20) years, and the tenant under the Lease had options to extend the term of the Kmart Lease for three (3) consecutive terms of five (5) years each. As the Kmart Lease commenced on or about February 1, 1966, the maximum term under the original Kmart Lease (including available extensions, had Kmart exercised its options for same) would have run through only January 31, 2001. Because the original fee owner of the Property (PADC) entered into the original Kmart Lease, any subsequent fee owner of the Commercial Development (including the Bruces) was, along with the ground tenant under the Ground Lease, bound for that original term and the originally-contemplated extension terms, if exercised.

While the fee owner of the Commercial Development would have been bound by the Kmart Lease for its full original term (including exercised extensions) as aforesaid, interjection of the Ground Lease and Sandwich Lease changed the relationships among the interested parties. Any amendment of the Kmart Lease signed only by Kmart and the Tenant under the Ground Lease (or, even more so, by only Kmart and the sublessee under the Sandwich Lease following introduction of that additional layer in 1975) that resulted in an extension of Kmart's occupancy of the Premises beyond January 31, 2001 (or that otherwise modified the original terms of the Kmart Lease), would not be effective to bind the owner of the underlying fee title to the Commercial Development, absent the written agreement of the underlying fee owner to be bound, inasmuch as – among other things -- the additional interest in the Premises being acquired by Kmart in such document was derivative of the leasehold or subleasehold estate only of Asheville K-M and the Samuels, as applicable, and record notice of such derivative interests had been properly filed of record in the Registry prior to the entering into of either of the Second Amendment to Kmart Lease and Third Amendment to Kmart Lease. Customarily, such an agreement to be bound would be reflected in some type of non-disturbance or recognition agreement by the fee owner in favor of the subtenant (or, in this case, sub-subtenant).² In the case at hand, however, an agreement binding the fee owner was never made by Kmart and the then-fee owner, as a result of which Fee Owners and their predecessors are not bound by any provisions of the 1992 and 2017 amendments to the Kmart Lease extending the term thereof beyond January 31, 2001, as those amendments were signed by Kmart and NAP only.

At this time, Asheville K-M has declined timely to exercise its right to extend the term of the Ground Lease beyond its current expiration date of January 31, 2019, and the option to do so under the Ground Lease has now expired and is of no further force and effect. Because the option of Asheville K-M under the Ground Lease expired, 19th & Samuels likewise had and has no further right to continued occupancy of the Commercial Development or Premises beyond January 31, 2019, as no non-disturbance or recognition agreement between Fee Owners and 19th & Samuels was entered into either. Given that the rights to continued occupancy of the Commercial Development and Premises belonging to the parties intervening between Fee Owners and Kmart have not been extended, the rights of occupancy of both of such parties (as well as any other parties claiming through them) altogether terminate and expire on January 31, 2019. As a result (and as stated previously), Kmart's Notice does not bind Fee Owners and, accordingly, is ineffective to extend the term of the Kmart Lease, which will likewise expire on January 31, 2019, along with the Ground Lease and Sandwich Lease.

² We note that, in connection with a potential sub-sublease transaction proposed in 2015 by Kmart for a Golden Corral restaurant within the Commercial Development, the parties recognized that, in order to protect fully the term of the Golden Corral sublease that was being contemplated, it was necessary to have the Fee Owners, Asheville K-M and the Samuels all join in execution of such "recognition documentation." While the Golden Corral transaction was never concluded, preparation of the necessary recognition documentation in negotiating the transaction clearly demonstrates that Kmart was aware of the layered ownership/leasing structure pertaining to the Commercial Development and that Kmart and the Samuels were unable to conclude agreements amongst themselves regarding continued leasing within the Commercial Development that would be binding upon the interests of the Fee Owners, Asheville K-M and/or the Samuels absent their execution of such documentation.

Given the foregoing, Kmart should vacate and surrender possession of the Premises and Commercial Development to Fee Owners in accordance with the terms of the Kmart Lease on or before January 31, 2019, and demand for possession on such date is hereby made by Fee Owners.

Sincerely,

THE ALLISON BRUCE IRREVOCABLE TRUST

Re: "Exercise of lease option"

Dear Sir/Madame

I am in receipt of Mr. Howarth's, Esq. letter dated 7/24/18 and JoAnne Catanese's letter dated 7/20/18.

FYI, It is not my irrevocable trust, it is my revocable trust. I have not delegated any authority regarding subject property to anyone.

The "lease option" or if construed as a request to lease for approximately three years is DECLINED and REJECTED under the stated or any implied terms.

Sincerely,

/S/

STEVEN BRUCE
